Gate Crasher

Welcome to Guru's Gate Crasher, your ultimate guide to finding something fresh to do in this big city.

The arty option for the weekend is All Things Bright And Beautiful, an optimistic way to start your Sat (Jun 2). It's the fourth solo exhibition by Jonathan Thomson, on at Thavibu Gallery (02-266-5454, inter@thavibu, Silom Galleria Building, 308, 919/1 Silom Road). The clencher is the start time of the opening reception at 11am, but it might be worth getting out of bed for, as the unique works were made by hand-embroidering electroluminescent wire onto aluminium panels, resulting in images that glow with light when charged, similar to neon. And he's no creative slouch either. Jonathan Thomson is an artist, historian, critic and curator. He is art consultant to Louis Vuitton Asia Pacific and curator of the Espace Louis Vuitton galleries in Hong Kong, Macau, Taipei and Singapore.
