

WHITE GIRLS

BANGKOK

The Bangkok exhibition of the White Girls series of paintings was the inaugural exhibition of the Thavibu Gallery Project Space in the Silom Galleria, Silom Road, Bangkok.

The exhibition opened on 30 April 2011 and continued until 18 June 2011.

Featured as an exhibition highlight in the May 2011 edition of Bangkok Art Map, the critic and curator Steven Pettifor described the exhibition as addressing consumerism and commodity culture through pop-styled eroticism, employing the naked female form to channel desire within the context of associated historical painting.
